

Swipe-2-Sort Evaluation Consent Form

RT: #3308

This project aims to evaluate the usability of an Android app called "Swipe-2-Sort" which will allow users to sort photos into folders, quickly and easily.

Today I will be conducting a lab study designed to evaluate the usability of this app by getting feedback from yourselves as users. During this study, I will ask you to download the app from the Play Store and complete a set of simple tasks using the user interface on your device. Afterwards, I will ask you to complete a quick survey on your experience with the application, followed by a group discussion.

During the study, I will not ask you to at any point show me or anyone else, any of your images on your device. If you feel uncomfortable about your participation in the study at any time, just let me know, and you are free to leave. There will not be any compensation for participation in this study beyond the knowledge that you will have advanced science.

This study will be used to evaluate and improve upon the designed User Interface for the Swipe-2-Sort app, any feedback you provide will be used for this purpose along with anonymous use in related work. The survey feedback, conducted through Google Forms, will be kept for a maximum of one year and then destroyed. Anonymized quotes may be retained longer for use by future students on this project.

The project is supervised by Dr Boris Grot (boris.grot@ed.ac.uk) and conducted by myself, Mahbub Iftekhhar (s1539380@sms.ed.ac.uk).
